

The following passage comes from a channeled lecture at Cape Kimberley, Australia, 2009

Being More Than Human

BEING:

The opening of one's mind and body so that the soul can come in, is when you can begin to understand and learn from other life forms, so that you may function with them.

It is never for them to change for you. Humans need to do the changing. That is why you took on the human form. They change all the time -- every mountain, every forest, every body of water is in continual change, or it is stagnant and dead. Even the wind moves and speaks.

You have to learn how to listen and how to know what it is saying and how to be with it. Not how to change it, how to be with it.

This is an area where humans have taken a false step. You have learned how to change the waterways, the earth, the wind, even fire. You have never learned to live with it, yet. How to walk with it. How to be the one that changes with it. That is one of your major karmic lessons you all have.

You picked a planet to understand how you can be more than human.

Let everything speak to you. Listen with your whole body. Don't expect it to make sense to you. If it has to become logical, you are now trying to dictate to the wind, the waters, the oceans, the land: "Speak to me in a way I can learn."

And they will say to you, "Listen in a way and learn who I am so you can learn."

It will be you that needs to transform yourself to understand, to listen, to be more than human.

And then be human.

The Earth Oracle added: "You have to let go of being human and let learning happen. Questions bring changes. Questions with patience. We have to grow into our answers."

© Donna Sarah Taylor